'Klondike Battle' For The Apple iPhone® & Apple iPad® Brings New Spin On The Solitaire Genre

Featured & FREE For A Limited Time Only!

In collaboration with popular games- and app-portal, Daily App Dream (www.dailyappdream.com), independent developers Nifty Inspirations are offering their popular solitaire game with a twist, 'Klondike Battle', for FREE, in a limited-time promotion beginning January 10th 2012.

'Klondike Battle', compatible with the Apple iPad®, as well as the Apple iPhone® and Apple iPod touch®, is at its foundation a solitaire game, but with a lot of improvements and enhancements unique to the genre. Based on 'Russian Bank', the game plays with a specific set of rules: you play head-to-head against an opponent (human or computer) to determine who is best. You are constantly trying to play your cards strategically onto the playing field, which you share with your opponent. The smarter player can increase its winning chances by carefully checking all possibilities and making the better moves. In the classic solitaire game, you challenge yourself, but in 'Klondike Battle' you challenge your opponent. Furthermore, the game is made harder by introduction of a timer, and as the clock ticks down it becomes essential that you execute the best possible move before the clock runs out! And finally, in 'Klondike Battle' you can pound your opponents mental state with cards you cannot play to the playing board, and give yourself the advantage in the game! Although your opponent player will not appreciate this, it is hilarious fun and a nice addition to the game.

'Klondike Battle' is packed with more features than cards in a deck: highly addicting, never the same (try the replay feature and see), 4 levels of difficulty, statistics and online ranking, player account management, full Retina display support (iOS4+), and Twitter integration (iOS5+) and with multi-player support coming up, this title is the only solitaire game you will ever need to download from the App Store!
