Connect The Dots Extreme Now Available On Apple iPhone™ & Apple iPod touch®

Welcome Back An Old Friend!

Connect The Dots Extreme from independent developer, poccaDot, offers a new twist to an old classic game. The memories and concept from childhood past are as many as they are sweet: The objective of the game is to connect a sequence of dots by drawing a line thus revealing an outline of an image hidden underneath.

Connect The Dots Extreme brings the original concept to a new level of fun. Instead of connecting the dots in old-fashioned large and bland books manufactured of recycled paper, this game comes alive, literally. As you connect the dots using speed and accuracy the line itself becomes alive and you have to press the right dot at the exact right time in order to complete the drawing properly. The faster the line moves the higher your score becomes, a score you can compare against your friends best performance.

Connect The Dots Extreme features a large number of drawings to complete, crisp and colorful graphics and additional player options such as the ability to choose pen color among other things. The "Extreme" option can be disabled transforming the game to its original classic version without animated lines, excellent for practice or for children.

Connect The Dots Extreme won an honorary award at the Orange startAPP Apple iPhone™ development contest in Israel in January, 2010.

Connect The Dots Extreme is available from the App Store:
